

THE FUTURE OF BANKING IS IN SYSTEMATICS SOFTWARE.

Throughout the world more financial institutions are turning to banking's most proven integrated software.

Systematics has created a fully integrated set of retail software that can adapt to language, currency and regional market variances.

Today, banks in 15 countries, including major Asian and European financial institutions, depend on Systematics software. We demonstrate our commitment by providing comprehensive support services on a regional and corporate level.

For more than 20 years, Systematics has been a company dedicated exclusively to banking software and data processing services. Systematics is a worldwide leader in providing outsourcing services and software to the banking industry.

In this one-world economy, Systematics software is the future of banking.
